*Protec Head Lice Repellent is formulated to provide two days protection after use. Re-apply every two days or after the hair is washed for long term protection. Each 200ml bottle will provide up to 140 days protection if applied every two days on short hair. It may be less for longer hair.
The Dreaded Head Lice

The management of head lice continues to be a major task for parents, school personnel, and healthcare professionals worldwide. Pediculosis has increased worldwide as a result of insecticide resistance, improper application of anti-lice shampoos and misdiagnosis.

School Children Suffer

Transmission of head lice most commonly occurs through close physical contact (head-to-head). Louse transfer has been found to be optimal when hairs are relatively stationary and parallel (more likely to occur while children are at rest). Children between the ages of 4 and 11 suffer most. Girls are more commonly affected than boys.

Management of Head Lice

Until now there have been just two ways of managing head lice: 1) Treatments 2) Combing

Now there is an alternative solution…

Protec Head Lice Repellent. Safe long lasting protection against head lice.
